CHANGING GAMES MUST BE STOPPED

So District Attorney Wible Tells the Constables of the County and
Some Machines in Gettysburg
Disappear soon afterward.

The county constables who attended court on Monday were given instructions by District Attorney Wible to take special steps to stop the very prevalent use of slot machines and other gambling devices. They will be expected to report all violations and steps will then be taken to punish the offenders.

These machines have appeared at numerous places, in the county, it is said, and take the form of wheels or other machines. The "boards" used to chance off various objects and to promote sales through the changing element are severely condemned and their owners are to cease at once using them. The step taken by the District Attorney in so instructing the constables has already borne fruit in Gettysburg and a general abandonment of the practice is expected to follow.

Another matter of vital interest and gratification to Gettysburgians was the verdict of guilty against Carson Valentine on a charge of adultery Valentine is the colored man who for several years has been living with Ella Cook, a white girl, in the western part of town. The condition has been long deplored by the right thinking people of the town but it was always difficult to get enough evidence to convict. The time finally came several weeks ago when a former friend of the couple had some trouble with them.

At Monday's session of court the following business was transacted:

The assault and battery case of the Commonwealth vs. John Fissel was discontinued by order of the Court, the costs to be paid by the county.

The first case tried was that of the Commonwealth vs. Kate Myers charged with assault on oath of Lewis Cleaver. Numerous witnesses were called, most of them from York Springs and vicinity. The defendant was found guilty. Edward A. Weaver represented the defense and District Attorney Wible conducted the case for the Commonwealth.

In the case of the Commonwealth against Elmer Toddes, Charles Trimmer and Mrs. Jacob Darr, charged with selling liquor to minors the grand jury returned a true bill against Toddes and Mrs. Darr and not a true bill against Trimmer.

This morning the two defendants pleaded guilty.

True bills were returned in the following cases:

Com. vs. George Behr.

Com. vs. Mack Clay, assault and battery.

Mack Clay pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and was put on parole, conditioned upon his good behavior.

Com. vs. Glenroy Snowden. The Court ordered that he pay the costs of prosecution and put on parole for one year.

Com. vs. Charles Brown, assault and battery.

Brown was found guilty after a short trial this morning.

Com. vs. Ben Starner. Assault.

The following cases were not prosecuted.

Com. vs. Mary Yingling. Surety of the peace.

Com. vs. Spangler Hetrick. Larceny.

Com. vs. Bertha M. Alwine.

Com. vs. Harry Burnes. Assault.

Com. vs. Chester Shoemaker. Larceny.

Com. vs. John Shultz, Jr.

Mary C. Pottorff vs. Chester I. Pottorff. Divorce proceedings. C. W. Stoner, Esq., appointed to take testimony.

Alva C. Bankert vs. Clayton O. Bankert. Divorce proceedings. Charles E. Stahle, Esq., was appointed to take testimony.

After examination by U. S. Inspector Becker before Judge Swope, Morris Cohen, of Littlestown, was given a naturalization certificate.

Court adjourned to Saturday, February 1, at 10:30.

MANY TRACKS

Western Maryland Authorizes Extensions and New Facilities.

Western Maryland directors have authorized the extension of the present passing tracks between Hagerstown and Cumberland, a distance of 80 miles, to 4000 feet clear length and authorized the construction of five additional passing tracks of the same length. This will provide passing track facilities for 100-car trains.

The construction of these facilities involves about seven and one-half miles of track and the expenditure will aggregate from $250,000 to $300,000.

MRS. LONGSTREET TO AID SICKLES

Wife of War-Time Enemy Announces Desire to Aid Union General in his Present Financial Difficulties. Papers Served.

Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet widow of the famous Confederate general, came to the aid of her husband's Civil War foe, Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, Monday with an offer to raise $23,476 among the "ragged and maimed followers of Lee" to pay General Sickles' alleged debt to the state of New York.

Sheriff Harburger, who arrested General Sickles Monday in the civil suit brought by the state to recover the money, also indicated a letter to many of the richest men in New York asking them to aid the aged veterans.

In a telegram sent to General Sickles from Gainesville, Ga., Mrs. Longstreet said she had telegraphed to the Attorney General of the state of New York that she would raise the money among the Confederate veterans if allowed sufficient time.

"The republic whose battles you fought will not permit your degradation," were her closing words to Gen. Sickles.

The Sheriff addressed his letter to J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and the 450 members of the Sheriff's panel, composed of wealthy New Yorkers.

Sheriff Harburger dealt gently with his prisoner. Instead of serving the order of arrest Monday morning he waited until General Sickles' lawyer, Daniel P. Hays, had arranged with a surety company for a $30,000 bond for the veteran's freedom. Mr. Hays brought it to the Sheriff's office and they went to General Sickles' Fifth avenue home during the afternoon.

"Well, General," the Sheriff greeted him, "it's a bit of formal business today. You know I have to serve you with these papers. I'm sorry I have to do so, but I have no choice."

"It is all right," General Sickles replied, tossing the unopened order and complaint on his library table. "You're one of the best friends I've got, Sheriff."

They placed the bond before the General and he signed it in a flowing hand.

"That handwriting is not so bad for a man who is more than 92 years old, Sheriff," he commented. "It cost me $600 to get this bond."

There was a fee of $5.25 owing the county for the service of the papers. General Sickles summoned Miss Edith Wilmerding, his housekeeper, to pay it. She came into the room with her hands full of pennies, tripped on a rug and scattered them over the floor. The General assisted in picking them up.

When the Sheriff left, General Sickles shook hands with him and renewed his declaration of friendship.

The issuance of the bond makes it unnecessary for the Sheriff to place General Sickles in the Ludlow Street Jail, as he feared Saturday he might have to do. The Sheriff said this afternoon he thought the case would be speedily brought to trial at Albany.

"HERO OF GETTYSBURG"

A dispatch from Gainesville, Georgia, says:

"I will raise the money to relieve General Sickles of his embarrassment if New York pushes the prosecution and none of his Northern friends go to his aid."

This statement was made today by Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet after the publication of her telegrams to Gen. Daniel E. Sickles and the State's Attorney-General at Albany offering aid in the soldier's financial difficulties.

"My husband always spoke of Gen. Sickles as the hero of Gettysburg," the statement continues. "General Longstreet in the last autograph letter he ever wrote, September 19, 1902, to General Sickles told him that the taking of the Peach Orchard by Sickles' corps won the battle for the Union forces."

"It was General Longstreet's detachment that shot off the leg of the brave Union general, but as General Longstreet said: 'Sickles can well afford to leave a leg at Gettysburg, for he has made sure his place forever in the hearts of Americans.'"

"I have made no plans as yet, but if General Sickles needs my aid and the aid of the South he will get it."

HAS A MANIA TO START FIRES

Hanover Fire Bug Says he has Mental Weakness in that Direction. Also Leans Toward Suicide Idea, he claims.

Arrested Monday on a charge of setting fire to his store room in Hanover last Sunday morning to obtain the insurance money, Frank Bankert, agent for the Chicago Tea Company, admitted the crime and has been committed to the York county jail. Five families lived over the store room, and all were in bed when one of the tenants was fortunately awakened by the smoke at 4 a. m. and all escaped. Bankert disappeared after the fire, but reappeared Monday and a warrant sworn out by Guy Hollinger, was served upon him. He said that a nervous disorder impelled him to the crime, and that he was also possessed of a mania to commit suicide.

The tea agent when he returned to the building Monday professed entire ignorance that a fire had occurred. After close questioning by the officers, however, he is said to have admitted that he set the fire. Fire Chief Martin, in his report of the fire, had stated positively that it was of incendiary origin.

The flames had only a slight start when the firemen arrived and the fire was extinguished by the crew of the steam engine company by means of chemicals. It was found that large quantities of inflammable materials had been heaped about the room. Trails of straw, saturated with kerosene, connected piles of paper and other rubbish in a manner calculated to spread the flames quickly. The only error made by the incendiary was in having tightly closed all doors and windows. This hindered the progress of the blaze.

Bankert had been last seen about the place at about 6 o'clock last Friday evening, but it was stated afterward that some person had been heard moving about in his room at midnight Saturday. Nothing more was seen of him afterward until his return Monday morning. In addition to conducting the store room he had a country trade, peddling his goods about by team.

FREIGHT PILE-UP

No One Was Hurt—Broken Flange The Cause.

Sixteen coal cars of an extra Western Maryland freight train were piled up on the lines of the Philadelphia and Reading railway at Hayes Grove, Cumberland county, midnight Saturday. The track was torn up for a considerable distance, and much of the coal spilled. Wrecking crews of the Western Maryland and the Cumberland Valley worked all day Sunday in clearing the tracks. During the time that the Reading line was tied up, the freight was run over the Cumberland Valley into Harrisburg. No one was injured. A broken flange caused the wreck.

MOUNTAIN VISITORS

Pen Mar Cottages Scene of Several Unwelcome Visits.

A gang of robbers or tramps who desire protection from the elements has been operating in the vicinity of Pen Mar park, the past week. Two cottages were entered, that of E. O. Blair, on the High Rock road, and that of J. J. Oiler, near Pen Mar station. It is thought the cottages were entered the latter part of the week. Residents of the vicinity noticed that the places were open and notified the owners. The investigation showed that the contents of the cottages had been rummaged through and left in disorder upon the floors but nothing was missing and it is because of this that the belief is held by some that the intruders were tramps, who desired protection from the rain or cool nights and who were not bent on robbery. Entrance to both the cottages was effected by breaking panels in the front doors. A window in the Oiler cottage was also broken. Almost every year, about this time, a gang of robbers or tramps operates in the vicinity of the park, and as this was the first visit of this year, it is likely that owners of cottages will take some step to check their depredations or formulate plans by which to safeguard their properties during the winter months, while unoccupied.

BOY STILL MISSING

Youth, Caught by Lure of the Moving Picture, not yet Found.

So far all efforts to locate the missing Roy Bushman, of Carlisle, have been unsuccessful. Messages and letters have been sent to all parts of the country and the police of all the surrounding towns have been notified, but since the time he was supposed to have been seen between Shippensburg and Chambersburg, no trace of him has been found. Although a reward for his return was offered several days ago, as yet nothing has resulted. Sergeant Everett, who is in charge of the force of State Police stationed near Waynesboro, went to Carlisle and he said that he would notify the other members of the organization throughout the state to be on the look-out for him and his squad Monday began a search of the mountains in the vicinity of which the boy was last seen.

FEAR BOGUS GENERALS

Fear Southern Soldiers will Claim too High Rank while here.

"The great celebration at Gettysburg next summer and the reunion of the blue and the gray on that historic field is attracting attention North and South," says the Baltimore Sun. "One disturbing fear has crept into the minds of those who are sticklers for historic verity. That is that truth may be made to blush by the unwarranted assumption of high military titles by some of those who propose to figure there. The Grand Army people can probably be depended on not to allow any jackdaws on their side to masquerade in peacocks' feathers, but some of our ex-Confederate friends, who smelled powder from Bull Run to Appomattox, are reported to be surprised at the large increase in Southern generals of the Civil War recently reported in various sections."

"When all these generals appear on the field of Gettysburg, it is said they will be numerous enough to compose a division by themselves. Confederate veterans, who do not pretend to have been generals, feel that wrong will be done to their cause by wearing of borrowed plumage on such an occasion, and that no one should be permitted to wear a general's uniform at the reunion who was not entitled to wear it by his rank in the Southern army. The Grand Army representatives cannot well discriminate in such a case, and must accept the Southern 'generals' at their own valuation, which makes it all the more important for the Confederate camps to see that they are not discredited by skim milk masquerading as cream."

"After all, the highest rank in the Southern armies will be accorded by history to the Confederate private. He wears forever the shoulder-straps of military immortality. The ex-Confederate who appears in a private's uniform at Gettysburg will be the real ranking general."

CARNATION DAY

Annual Custom of Wearing the Carnation to be Observed.

Wednesday, January 29, is the birthday of ex-President William McKinley and thousands of people throughout the country will observe the day in the pretty custom of wearing the carnation, Mr. McKinley's favorite flower and the one which he always wore. The red carnation was the one he preferred but in recent years the wearing of any variety of the flower has been accepted as silent tribute to the much-loved man. Gettysburg has always been quick to join in this observance and this year will in all probability be no exception.

JAMES THORPE.

Famous Athlete Admits Professionalism in Base Ball.

THORPE ADMITS PROFESSIONALISM

Olympic Trophies Won by Indian to be Returned.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian school athlete, who distinguished himself at the Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, last summer, has admitted that he is a professional.

Word was received in Philadelphia that the confession was contained in a letter received by the committee of the A. A. U., sitting in New York. The committee consists of James S. Sullivan, Bartow Weeks and Gustavus Kirby.

The letter came from Glenn Warner, coach of the Carlisle foot ball team. He wrote that Thorpe had admitted playing professional base ball in the Eastern Carolina league.

It was stated that the authorities at Carlisle knew nothing about Thorpe's professional career until the Indian made a statement several days ago. Warner wrote that the trophies won by Thorpe in the decathlon and pentathlon events at Stockholm would be placed at the disposal of the A. A. U.

They will probably be forwarded to the Olympic committee and they will then be given to the second man in each event. Roy Mercer, the 1912 U. S. P. foot ball captain, who was fourth in the decathlon, will not get the prize for third place.

PORCELAIN WORKERS QUIT

1000 Trenton Workers Go on Strike When Demands Are Ignored.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 28.—Practically all of the nearly 1000 employees in the porcelain manufacturing plants of this city quit work because the manufacturers declined a request that they meet with committees of the recent organized unions to discuss demands of the employees for a 20 per cent increase in wages and recognition of their unions.

Their demands were submitted in writing last Friday, and the manufacturers have not seemed disposed to pay any attention to them, saying that they can get all the help they need.

Posse Kills Outlaw's Family.

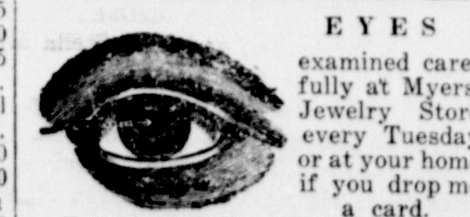

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 28.—In a fight between a sheriff's posse and John Baran, an outlaw, at the latter's home, near Riding Mountain, a woman and child were shot to death and Baran escaped. The posse had gone to Baran's cabin, determined to arrest him for shooting Charles Rooke, of the Manitoba police. Rooke had attempted to arrest Baran on a warrant charging wife desertion. When the posse approached Baran opened fire.

FREE WOOL URGED ATTARIFF HEARING

Committee Hears Pleas of Business Men.

VETOED BILL AS A BASE

Boston Witness Wants Return to the Wilson Law, With All Duties Off Raw Product.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Democratic plans for downward revision of the wool tariff, one of the most complicated features to come before the approaching session of congress, were under fire before the committee on ways and means.

General expectation among house Democrats is that the committee will report practically the same schedule as was passed in the house at the first and second sessions of this congress, was amended in the senate last summer, compromised in conference and vetoed by President Taft.

The average ad valorem wool duty in the present law is almost 60 per cent. The vetoed bill, which serves as the tentative basis of action, would tax raw wool 20 per cent ad valorem, instead of the higher varying rates on three classifications in the present law. It would put an ad valorem duty of 20 per cent also on wool wastes and rags, 25 per cent on combed wool or tops, 30 per cent on yarns as well as blankets and the cheaper flannels for underwear, rates ranging from 35 to 50 per cent on cloths, ready-made clothing, knit fabrics, hatters' not for underwear, women's dress goods, webbing, gossams and articles not otherwise provided for.

As compromised in conference between the two houses last August the duty on raw wool was shifted to 29 per cent, which President Taft declared was insufficient.

Frank P. Bennett, of Boston, argued for the re-enactment of the Wilson law of 1894. This was a plea for entire removal of duties upon wool and a reduction of the tariff upon woolen goods to 50 per cent. He said that would be in the interest of both manufacturer and sheep husbandry, and declared the wool tariff distorted sheep husbandry by encouraging growers to keep unprofitable animals.

The duty of 33 cents a pound, now assessed upon scoured wool, had imposed a tax of nearly $100,000,000 upon the American people, besides hampering manufacturers, the witness said.

Joseph D. Holmes, of New York, a wool expert, recommended ad valorem and specific duties on clothing, and an ad valorem duty on wool, with an additional duty on clothing to compensate for labor and mill cost, contending that clothing would be no cheaper if the duty on cloth were removed. He said that a suit or overcoat containing 21 worth of cloth was sold at wholesale for $8 to $9 and at retail for $12 to $18.

Elen S. Stephens, of Worcester, Mass., a wool manufacturer, advocated free listing wool wastes.

John P. Wood, of Philadelphia, president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, told the committee he had accepted in good faith the assurance that the contemplated revision would injure no legitimate business. He said that while rates on some articles exceed protection requirements, the tariff board had showed that the manufacturers realized no advantage of it, as domestic competition regulated prices within narrow limits of profit. The association stood generally for the present tariff.

Wood criticized the Democratic and compromise bills of the previous session of this congress as destructive.

Wood refused to make any specific recommendation as to raw wool, although proposing the maintenance of the present tariff protection on woolen goods. He pictured "big problems" confronting the Democrats in attempting to carry out a tariff reduction plan and questioned the ability of the committee so to classify the different commodities as to apply a rate that would exactly fit each kind of wool.

FIGHT COAL ROADS' PLEA

The Government Willing to Except Only One Contract.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The government filed with the supreme court notice of opposition to the plea of the hard coal railroads for modification of the decree holding the so-called 65 per cent contracts illegal.

Only one contract—that between the Pennsylvania Coal company and the Elk Hill Coal and Iron company—the government willing to have excepted.

Runaway Cars In Smash.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 28.—Three trainmen were injured when a runaway section of cars collided with a freight train in the Western Maryland railway yards. While cutting out a damaged car of a train forty-five cars started down grade, struck the freight engine and narrowly missed wrecking a passenger train.

Arrested at Close of His Sermon.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Just as Fred W. Randall finished a sermon on "Salvation" before the Bible Students association here, he was arrested on a charge of deserting his wife and two children.

WOULD CURB WALL STREET

Governor Sulzer Recommends Regulation of Stock Exchange.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—State supervision and regulation of the New York stock exchange and other stock exchanges are advocated by Governor Sulzer in a message sent by him to the legislature.

The time is ripe, in the governor's opinion, for the state to step in and end "flagrant abuses, shifty schemes and clever combinations to catch the unwary and to mislead the public." To effect this the governor recommends the enactment of a group of laws, at least one of which shall provide imprisonment as a penalty for its violation. These laws, he says, should apply to certain practices which have been shown to exist by the Pujo committee of the house of representatives and other investigators. The governor says:

"The testimony of some of the governors of the exchanges leaves no doubt in the minds of men of judgment that the exchanges have been either incapable or unwilling to devise measures that will effectively eradicate the evils. It is now the obvious duty of the state, it seems to me, to devise the remedies. If the state neglects to do its plain duty the state should find no fault if the federal government acts in the premises."

PARCEL POST SAVES $500,000 TO PEOPLE

Author of Bill Quotes Statistics For Two Weeks.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Not only has the parcel post saved the people of the United States in the first fifteen days of its existence more than $500,000, according to Senator Bourne, author of the law, but it has not proved a hardship to the overworked letter carrier.

Senator Bourne announced that reports from forty-five leading cities of the country, which produce almost half of the postal revenue, showed that during the twelve working days between Jan. 1 and 15 a total of 5,994,027 outgoing parcels were dispatched at a cost of $395,286, or about 7.7 cents a parcel.

"Under the postage rates previously in force, one cent per ounce," said the senator, "the postage would have been an average of 18 1/2 cents per parcel, or a total of $942,394.99, thus showing a saving to shippers of $547,508.12 on twelve days' business. It should also be remembered that the usual minimum charge of express companies is 25 cents per parcel, whereas the average charge on the parcel post packages was only 7.7 cents."

CRISIS TODAY IN SENATE

Republicans Plan to Force Confirmation of Taft's Appointments.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Republican fight for the confirmation of President Taft's 1300 appointments now pending in the senate will come to a climax today, when a Republican caucus will be asked by Republican leaders to bind its members to a continuous session behind closed doors in an effort to break down Democratic opposition.

The caucus has been called ostensibly to take up the proposal made by the Democrats for a joint committee to weed out the Taft appointments and select certain ones that shall be confirmed.

It is understood that prominent Republicans will submit to the caucus a proposed plan by which the members would bind themselves to attempt to sell the senate continuously in session until the Democrats could be forced to give way and permit a general consideration of all appointments.

Four Sins Tried on Same Charge.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Four brothers, all charged with counterfeiting, were put on trial in Federal Judge Carpenter's court. They are: James H. Fred, Melvin and George Rice, who recently were indicted following a raid made by federal officers. James Rice, father of the boys, now is serving a ten-year term, his fourth term in a federal prison for counterfeiting.

Nominee to Congress Killed.

Cynthiana, Ky., Jan. 28.—Harry L. Bailey, Republican nominee for congress from the Ninth district of Kentucky, at the last election, was shot and killed by Newton Arnold.

NOTE TO END PEACE PARLEY DRAFTED

Allies Call Turkey's Attention to Long Delay.

London, Jan. 28.—The special committee appointed by the Balkan plenipotentiaries drafted a note notifying the Turkish delegates that they propose to break off the peace negotiations.

The note was not submitted to the Balkan delegations, which held no meeting. Instead the delegates gave a luncheon in celebration of the Saint day of Saba, the patron of the Orthodox church.

The note reminds the Turks that since Jan. 6 the sittings of the peace conference have been suspended without Turkey making any move toward their resumption, while events in Constantinople are the best proof that Turkey's answer to the demands of the allies concerning Adrianople and the Aegean Islands will be negative.

On this account, unless the Turkish delegation has fresh proposals to make, the note points out, the allies see no alternative but definitely to break off the negotiations.

The Serbian premier, M. Novakovich, will tender a luncheon in honor of the other delegations, after which a meeting will be held to examine the note.

Rehad Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, in an interview, said he deeply regretted the obstinacy of the allies, which he declared was not only against Turkey's, but against their own true interests.

LET HUSBAND WED ANOTHER

Homesick Wife Then Used Dowry to Return to Russia.

New York, Jan. 28.—When his wife became homesick four years ago, Paul Steinberg, with her consent, married a younger woman and used the $30 dowry she brought him to send his first wife back to Russia.

This was the story Steinberg told when arraigned in court on a bigamy charge. The plan promised well until the first Mrs. Steinberg decided to return to New York.

Here she had trouble supporting her five children and sought aid from the father. Steinberg grew tired of this and stopped the payments. Then his first wife had him arrested.

The court thought Steinberg's story so unusual that sentence was postponed to permit further investigation.

REBELS ASK PAY FOR PEACE

Will Lay Down Their Arms If Mexican Government Will Buy Weapons.

Mexico City, Jan. 28.—An offer to purchase peace in the state of Guerrero was put up to the government by Lieutenant Rudillo, leader of the insurgents in that state.

In a message to the war minister he said his men would lay down their arms if the government would purchase their weapons and pay for the stoppage of hostilities.

Zapatistas are again burning bridges in the southern part of the state of Mexico and many trains are held up.

Workmen Unearth Skeletons.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Workmen cutting down a hill of John D. Rockefeller's estate at Pocantico Hills came upon the skeletons of two women. The negro workmen were so frightened that they left their shovels and white men had to excavate the bones. No solution has been offered to clear the mystery.

Senator Crane Lost.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Senator W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, known as much about congressional machinery as anybody, but when he ventured to the house side of the capitol he got lost in the cellar and had to find an elevator man to guide him out.

Carleton Left $5000.

New York, Jan. 28.—Aside from certain manuscripts, Will Carleton, the poet, who died Dec. 16, 1912, left personal property worth $5000. His will bequeaths all his estate to a nephew, Norman E. Goodrich, of Brooklyn.

Wilson's Brother After Job

Announced That He Is a Candidate For Secretary of the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Joseph R. Wilson, of Nashville, Tenn., a brother of President-elect Wilson, is a candidate for secretary of the senate, according to a telegram received here from Senator Luke Lea.

Before Mr. Wilson entered the race there was a general line-up of senators in support of the previously announced candidates, among whom are Robert M. Wooley, a magazine writer; Robert M. Gates, a correspondent, and James M. Baker, assistant librarian of the senate.

Naturally, Democratic senators do not want to make a bad start with the new president and would feel inclined to support his brother if his candidacy was pressed.

Delaware Deadlock Still On.

Dover, Del., Jan. 28.—The ballot for United States senator in joint session of the legislature follows: Democrats: Willard Saulsbury, 24; James H. Hughes, 3; L. Irving Handy, 1. Republicans: George H. Hall, 14; Representative William H. Heald, 4; T. Coleman Dupont, 3; John G. Town send, Jr., 1. No election.

Fined $25 For Carrying Pistol.

New York, Jan. 28.—Thomas Connor and Thomas Smalley, Englishmen who arrived in this city on the steamship Baltic Jan. 29, paid fines of $25 each before Judge Rosalsky in general sessions for carrying revolvers. They were arrested the day they landed while on a spree.

Dies After Taking Poison. Wilmington, Del., Jan. 28.—Miss Annie Long, twenty-five years old, found on the doorstep of her home, 1335 East Thirteenth street, unconscious, died in the Delaware hospital, having swallowed poison. No cause is known for her act.

SUFFRAGISTS SAY THEY WILL RIOT

Defeated by British Cabinet Militants Declare War.

A HOT TIME IS COMING

Mrs. Pankhurst Says Followers Will Endanger Their Lives For the Suffrage Cause.

London, Jan. 28.—In retaliation for the decision of the cabinet to drop the franchise bill, a declaration of guerilla warfare, including sorties and riots, to begin at once, was made at a meeting by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant leader.

Mrs. Pankhurst called for the names and addresses of those who were "prepared to take part in the gallant onslaught."

The suffragette leader declared that there were many women who were prepared to endanger their lives in the cause.

Miss Annie Kenny, who has been prominent in the maneuvers of the militants, added that the women would "make the lives of public men impossible," and in reply to an interrupter said:

"If you are a shopkeeper you had better look out. It is not just your windows which are going to be attacked. It is something else. We are going to get this question settled once for all."

Many shops immediately began to board up their windows.

The decision of the cabinet to drop the franchise bill was made in deference to the speaker's ruling that the form and substance of the measure would be so materially changed by the amendment granting the vote to women that it ought to be presented in the form of a new bill.

After the speaker's ruling it was only a question whether the cabinet would announce its capitulation before or after the vote had been taken on Sir Edward Grey's amendment. The amendment called for the omission of the word "male" and thus practically introduced adult suffrage.

At the opening of the session of the commons Premier Asquith asked the speaker to state again in more definite form that if any of the women's amendments were carried, the franchise bill would become substantially a new bill and would have to be withdrawn. This done, Mr. Asquith announced that the cabinet would not prolong the discussion under the circumstances, but would drop the bill.

The government, he added, at its own time and within the lifetime of the present parliament, would proceed with bills dealing with electoral reform and plural voting.

Premier Asquith repudiated the suggestion that the government had been guilty of sharp practice regarding the question of woman suffrage. He declared that the members of the cabinet had honestly endeavored to carry out their pledge to challenge a decision from the house on woman suffrage.

The government, he continued, had pledged itself to give to a woman's franchise bill introduced by a private member next session the same facilities as it had given to the controversial government measure, allowing members complete freedom to vote in accordance with their individual predilections.

HOLD CHILD FOR MURDER

Grocer's Son Fires at Brother and Killed Customer in Store.

Greensburg, Pa., Jan. 28.—David Scalbetti, ten years old, is in jail here, charged with the murder of Andy Sabon, at Yukon, a mining town near here.

The boy, who is the son of Nick Scalbetti, a grocer, quarreled with a brother over some candy. David got a rifle and fired at his brother, but the bullet went wild and killed Sabon, who was a customer in his father's store.

WILL RE-ELECT TILLMAN

Bleese Forces Decide to Abide by Selection in Primaries.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 28.—Having received endorsement by the Democratic voters in the primary last Aug. st. Benjamin R. Tillman will be re-elected United States senator by the general assembly.

The Bleese forces in the senate and house, who are bitterly opposed to Tillman, will not fight his selection, as the primary is considered binding.

The Heckler.

"Stump speaking is the hardest work in the world," said Senator Beveridge. "It is especially hard," he continued, smiling, "when there are hecklers in the audience."

"A friend of mine the other day was getting on famously in a stump speech. 'Gentlemen,' he shouted, 'a man is known by his works.'"

"And he paused impressively. But a heckler took advantage of the pause to yell."

"Then yours must be gas works."

Memoranda.

Professor—It was by the inscription on this colossal obelisk that we succeeded in positively identifying the mummy Ramesses I.

Uncle Henry—I suppose all that Chinese rignature over there was his memorandum of the size of his socks, his watch number, whom to notify in case of death and such truck.—Post.

HUMOROUS QUIPS

The Passage of Time.

He met her where green branches hung
In graceful curves above
When he was ardent, slim and young
And there declared his love.
But she, more worldly wise than he,
Had strength to answer no.
Accused of heartless cruelty,
She kindly bade him go.

Poor stricken boy! He went away
With anger in his breast.
She knew that he would learn some day
And know that she knew best.
He thought that he could love no more.
But she remained serene.
At that time she was twenty-four
And he was seventeen.

Today he knows that she was right.
With others to adore
His laugh is gay, his heart is light.
He cares for her no more.
She often sighs, remembering
His earnest, boyish vow.
What changes passing seasons bring—
She's his stepmother now!

Himself a new house, he declared that it was not going to be a mere place to live in, but was going to have all the "frills."

Anyway he had an electric bell fitted, then a distinct novelty to the neighborhood.
One Sunday afternoon Joe Briggs, a neighbor, called. It was hot weather, and all the windows were open, but the front door was shut. Joe knocked timidly, but the farmer took no heed. Joe knocked again, louder. Still no reply. Joe grew restive and knocked again with force. Still the owner of the mansion remained tranquil.

Joe stood puzzled and offended, for he knew the folks were at home. Once more he tried—a loud, continued knock that resounded over the entire place, whereupon the nettled owner yelled: "Ring the doorbell, confound ye! Don't ye know nothin'?"—Weekly Telegraph.

One on Him.

An elderly suburbanite, who prides himself upon his methodical habits, was showing to an overnight guest a particularly handsome chiming clock. It was 10:30 o'clock, and the host proceeded to wind up the timepiece.

"For thirty-five years," said he, "I have never missed a night winding up this clock at 10:30 o'clock."

The guest, who happened to be a jeweler, examined the clock closely, and a quizzical smile overspread his face.
"What's funny?" inquired the householder.
"Why," said the visitor, "I was trying to figure out how much time you have wasted. This is an eight day clock."—Newark Star.
